Standardized progression ladder mapping levels across Big Tech, Unicorns, GCCs, and IT Services:

Level Key	Standard Title	Typical YoE	Scope, Responsibility & Terminal Expectation
L3_ENTRY	Entry Level / Associate (Entry (L3))	0-2 years	New graduates and early-career engineers. Focused on execution of bounded tasks with guidance. Up-or-out expected at most Big Tech within 24-36 months.
L4_MID	Mid-Level Software Engineer (Mid (L4))	2-5 years	Fully autonomous individual contributor. Owns end-to-end features, unblocks self, designs sub-systems. Many companies require promotion to Senior (L5) within 3-5 years (semi-terminal).
L5_SENIOR	Senior Software Engineer (Senior (L5))	5-8+ years	Career-terminal level for ~70% of engineers. Owns complex system architecture, sets standards, mentors juniors. Fully terminal level. Engineers can stay here indefinitely with strong performance.
L6_STAFF	Staff Engineer / Tech Lead (Staff (L6))	8-12+ years	Multi-team and org-wide technical leadership. Defines multi-quarter roadmaps, solves ambiguous cross-cutting problems. Requires demonstrated business-critical scope. High stall rate (~80% fail to advance further).
L7_PRINCIPAL	Principal / Senior Staff Engineer (Principal (L7))	12-16+ years	Company-wide or business-unit technical authority. Steers technology strategy, interfaces with VP/C-suite. Fewer than 3-5% of company engineers reach this level.
L8_DISTINGUISHED	Distinguished Engineer / Fellow (Distinguished (L8))	16+ years	Industry-level technical luminary. Influences industry standards, patents, core company platform foundations.

M1_MANAGER	Engineering Manager (EM (M1))	6-10 years	Direct people manager for 6-12 engineers. Responsible for delivery, career growth, team health, and execution. Can be terminal at mid-size companies, progression requires scaling team or multiple pods.
M2_SENIOR_MANAGER	Senior Engineering Manager (Sr EM (M2))	10-14 years	Second-line manager (manages managers or large org of 20-40 engineers). Strategic roadmap and talent calibration. High bar, requires managing complex cross-functional group.
